"Get Ready Now" To Stay Safe

Terrorists are working to obtain biological, chemical, nuclear and radiological weapons and the threat of attack is still very real. All Americans should begin a process of learning about potential threats to be better prepared. Some of the things you can do are assemble an emergency supply kit and develop a family communication plan in the event of an emergency. To learn more visit www.emergencyemail.org/homelandready.

Force Protection Travel Requirements

All Department of Defense military and civilian personnel must be briefed on force protection considerations that apply to their destinations and to the routes they plan to travel to and from those destinations. Before leaving on any trip, always check the following government force protection Web sites for up-to-date travel advisories: www.state.gov/travel (criminal/travel advisories/ warnings), www.cdc.gov/travel (types of diseases at that location) and www.odcsops.hqusa.army.mil (FP page, threat levels by country).

Medical Emergency Information

The Stuttgart military community has several emergency numbers. The German Red Cross (DRK) provides ambulance service to the Stuttgart military community; the Stuttgart Health Clinic has no ambulances. The DRK should only be used for genuine emergencies to prevent loss of life, limb or vision or to limit undue suffering.

If a true emergency exists on- or off-post, call the military police at 114/civ. 0711-680-114. This number is answered by the on-duty MP desk sergeant who will relay your request for ambulance service to the DRK.

Do not call or report to the Stuttgart Health Clinic for emergencies. They are not staffed or equipped to handle these situations. True emergencies, which may require ambulance service, include heart attack, poisoning, severe bleeding, unconsciousness, difficulty in breathing or severe injury to the head or torso.
